WIND BAND WAH WAH WHITE 2020

What's in a name?

Have you ever heard what sounds like 'wah, wah, waaaah...' in descending tones, after a wrong answer airs during a game show? It is made by muting the bell of a trumpet or other brass wind instruments with an object referred to as a 'wah-wah'. Rest assured, despite the origin of the name of Wind Band's white blend, you cannot go wrong with a glass of it in your hand!

Winemaking

Only the free run juice was used, allowed to settle and inoculated with selected yeast strain, fermenting under controlled conditions at 15°C. The varieties was vinified separately and blended after individual maturation on fine lees for 5 months. A small portion of the wine fermented in inert French oak barrels.

Tasting notes

There is generous fruit on the nose, with hints of green apple, peach and a touch of honeysuckle. The palate shows some citrus that is followed with a floral lift. The acidity is well balanced and the wines has a lingering finish

Cecilia Foundation

A percentage of the sales is transferred into the Cecilia Foundation NPO from where the funds are utilized to provide music exposure and education to under privileged children in the Citrusdal area of the Western Cape in South Africa.
